Wool and Sugar Tariff Bills and Excise Tax Bill

HOUSE REJECTS AMENDMENTS

Leaves Matter Flatly to Senate to Decide Whether Latter Wants to Pursue Legislation Further—Senate in a Quandary.

Washington, July 31.—The Democratic House returned to the Senate yesterday with none of the Senate's amendments accepted, the wool and sugar tariff revision bills and the excise tax bill. The House left it flatly to the Senate to decide whether that branch desired to pursue the legislation further.

The Senate last night was in a quandary. Regular Republicans are reported to favor a plan to absent themselves from the chamber, thus giving the Democrats a chance to pass the measures and send them to the White House for a presidential veto. Republican insurgents opposed the scheme and insisted the differences were reconcilable and should be threshed out in conference.

The Senate Democrats will seek to take advantage of the Republican disagreement by holding a caucus to discuss the tariff program this morning.

BRANDEIS COACHING STANLEY.

Washington, July 31.—Attorneys Louis D. Brandeis of Boston and Robert R. Reid of New York are coaching Chairman Stanley of the House steel trust investigating committee for the fight which he will make on the House floor for legislation recommended by the majority to strengthen the Sherman anti-trust law.

BORAH PUSHING PUBLICITY.

Washington, July 31.—The Henry bill providing for the publicity of the contributions in presidential campaigns was not acted upon at Monday's meeting of the Senate judiciary committee. Senator Borah of Idaho, who is active in pushing the measure, is endeavoring to have a special session of the committee called together for the purpose of reporting the bill.

WOULD BLOCK BLANKET APPEALS BY SHIPPERS

Attorney-General Wickersham Sends in Notice of His Views to Congress.

Washington, July 31.—Attorney-General Wickersham has advised Congress that he does not approve any proposition to give shippers a blanket right to appeal to the commerce court from all so-called negative rulings of the interstate commerce commission. He favors appeals only from such decisions as involve questions of law. Mr. Wickersham makes it plain that shippers should not be permitted to appeal on questions of fact as to the reasonableness of their requests for reductions in rates in cases where the commission denies the relief. The appeal should lie only when the commission refuses to decrease a tariff bill of its supposed want of jurisdiction.

JAIL FOR RECKLESS MOTORIST.

Recorder Nott Surprises Man Who Was Ready to Pay $500 Fine.

East Orange, N. J., July 31.—Recorder Francis A. Nott, Jr., of this city Monday evening sentenced William E. Sheridan to 10 days in the county jail for driving an automobile while unfitted by reason of intoxication. Sheridan had $500 in his pocket. He expected to be fined that amount and joked over it, but he was witted when the jail term was imposed without the alternative of a fine.

SPORTING NOTES.

The Philadelphia Nationals have a strong combination of batters in the first five on its batting list. The quintet is composed of Paskert, Lobert, Magee, Cravath and Luderus. It is the slugging of these five men that has been responsible for the showing of the club during the past few weeks.

Ray Collins of the Red Sox says that Eddie Collins is the hardest man in the country to pitch to. He stands up to the plate so there is no chance to work the corners. E. Collins is a waiter. He will never strike at anything that is not good. He has no weakness at the plate. With two strikes on him he will let three more pass. On the next one, if it is a fraction of an inch away from the plate, he will not jump at it. He prefers to walk. When he does strike, he usually hits hard. With E. Collins on base it is hard sledding for any pitcher. The pitcher is obliged to keep his eye on Collins continually.

When Washington invaded the West a few weeks ago, the club made a record in the annals of baseball by capturing every game played. It is well to remember that the team has yet to lose a game on its present invasion. While it is not expected that the Washington club will return from the West with the same glory, many are of the opinion that they will come back several games nearer Boston. From all appearances, the Washington team is playing better ball than the Boston club and is not looked upon as likely to slump.

McDermott, the third baseman of the Providence club in the International league, has been secured by President Navin of the Detroit club. McDermott has been successful while playing with the Providence team.

Alva Williams, catcher for the Washington Americans, who was at one time with the Boston Red Sox, says that Walter Johnson has something on Joe Wood. As Alva Smith has been assigned to catch Johnson for the season, Williams was not given a chance to get behind the bat with the Washington team until Ananias was forced out of the game a few days ago. When asked who had the greater speed, Johnson or Wood, he was at a loss to answer because he had only caught Johnson in practice. Wood is a harder man to catch on account of the ball he pitches. Wood's ball comes with a jerk and brake, while Johnson has a round, easy, swinging motion. Taking all in all, Williams thinks that Johnson has a shade on Wood.

Don Hamilton, who has been playing independent ball in northern Indiana, has joined the Chattanooga club. If he makes good there, he will be with Detroit next season.

Manager George Stovall intends to have the best team in the circuit next year. George is now scouting the bushes in search of the best obtainable material. The St. Louis team certainly needs patching.

Joe Sugden, scout for the Detroit club, is traversing the country in search of players for Hugh Jennings. Jennings places his confidence in Sugden and hopes to land another Cobb somewhere below the Mason and Dixon line.

Killaly, who was given a try-out with Boston for the past two years, is pitching excellent ball for Oakland of the Pacific Coast league.

No evidence of jealousy has as yet cropped out among the Washington American players. They are a harmonious bunch, pulling together in great shape, and it is to this that the experts ascribe their success.

Johnny Evers is far from being "all in" as a ball player. The old Trojan is just starting to strike his stride and, judging from his work of late, he looks good for a few more years.

Griffith recently told his new pitcher, Vaughn, that he would have to use his overhand ball continuously. The New York discard all season has been resorting to a side-arm delivery, due it is said, to his inability to control the ball. Vaughn, with control, is considered about the best pitcher in the business.

TAFT'S HAND ON WHEEL

Reserves the Right to Veto Details

NO INTENTION OF CHANGES

This Is With the Hope of Political Benefit—He Will Rest on the Record of His Administration.

New York, July 31.—There will be no reorganization of the cabinet during this administration. The president hopes to keep his official family intact until March 4 next. This decision indicates a determination on the part of the president to have a good deal to say regarding the conduct of his campaign for re-election. Details will be left to the campaign managers, but the president at all times reserves to himself the right to veto even the smaller matters affecting the campaign. The suggestion, which emanated from several members of what may be called the "campaign kitchen cabinet," that the president might strengthen himself politically, or at least solve some of the difficulties confronting his managers, by one or more substitutions in his cabinet, has not been seriously considered by Mr. Taft, and the suggestion will probably not be repeated.

It is true that some of the sources from which campaign contributions have flowed freely into the treasury of the Republican party in previous years are to all appearances closed for this campaign, and the aggressive record of the department of justice under the administration of Attorney-General Wickersham has been offered and doubtless will frequently be offered as a reason for refusing to contribute to the expense of re-electing the president. Instead of apologizing for or undertaking to explain the manner of Attorney-General Wickersham's enforcement of the Sherman anti-trust law, President Taft assumes full responsibility for the course of this cabinet officer. "All laws are to be enforced, and all who violate them must expect to feel the strong arm of the law as a result," was the pledge which President Taft made when he entered the White House, and he does not propose to modify it in order to remain there for another four years.

LIQUOR FORBIDDEN RAILROAD MEN

D. L. & W. Rules That Its Employees Can Drink Neither Off Duty Nor On—Nor Can They Do Anything to Unfit Them for Their Work.

New York, July 31.—As a result of an investigation conducted by the management of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad, following the recent disastrous wreck at Corning, N. Y., an order was issued Monday to the employees of the transportation service, forbidding the use of intoxicants, either while off or on duty. All classes of employees directly connected with the movement of trains are prohibited from using their time while off duty in any manner that may unfit them for the safe, prompt and efficient performance of their duty. This rule applies particularly to men who might spend their time off playing cards.

TURKEY AWAITS PEACE AT LAST

"With Honor," Is Sole Proviso of New Ministry

ITALY'S YEAR OF WARFARE

Hostilities Abroad React in Sultan's Empire—Efforts Now Being Made to Bring the War to an End.

Constantinople, July 31.—The government spokesmen in Parliament told the deputies yesterday that Turkey is willing to discuss peace with Italy if Turkish honor and dignity are not sacrificed.

The new ministry's program was submitted in full in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday.

It refers in unpleasant terms to the "unwarrantable interference of the military officers in politics."

The program also announced at length that the government was "not averse" to negotiations with Italy.

Turkey, it was said, would receive overtures to end the war, providing these were conducted in a manner compatible with Turkish pride and also that the sultan's sovereign rights were adequately safeguarded.

Hostilities have now continued for ten months, Italy having declared war against Turkey on September 29 last. The occupation of Tripoli followed soon after. The Italian navy was only lately repulsed in an attempted dash for Constantinople by forcing the passage of the Dardanelles.

Gen. Shevket Pasha, whose resignation as head of the government brought about the present crisis, was said to have resented the growing civil strife between the military and the Young Turks.

Military plots against the sultan's government led to the widest concessions of liberty to the Albanian rebels and others at the time the new ministry was forming.

UNABLE TO TELL HOW SNODGRASS GIRL MET DEATH

Physicians Return Verdict of Death from "Unascertainable Cause," on Nurse Who Vanished.

Catekill, N. Y., July 31.—The physicians who performed the autopsy on the body of Miss Dorcas I. Snodgrass have certified that death resulted from "an unascertainable cause" and yesterday the authorities continued their efforts to unravel the mystery.

Whether the nurse, who had been missing from her sister's home in Mount Vernon for nearly two weeks, came to her death by accident, murder, or suicide, is the problem with which they have to deal. The motive for the tragedy was disclosed by the autopsy.

The physicians declared that there were indications of a least compatible with death by drowning, but they would not say that Miss Snodgrass died while in the water.

NEW MIKADO WILL CALL PARLIAMENT

He Would Express His Desire to Continue the Modernization of Japan.

Tokio, July 31.—Mikado Yoshito, Japan's new ruler, decided yesterday to call an extra session of Parliament soon. He wants to tell his subjects that it is his ambition to continue the modernization of Japan. With Parliament in session, he can outline his policies with the least possible loss of time to the largest possible number of the country's most influential men.

His majesty is much exhausted by his long vigil at his dying father's bedside. He was hardly able to get through the elaborate ceremonial which marked his own accession to the throne.

It is understood the state council has already chosen the name of the new era, which begins with each change in rulers, but it has not yet been announced. It is reported that the proclamation of amnesty which usually accompanies an accession will include the 123 Koreans on trial for conspiracy at Seoul.

Mutsuhito's funeral will take place in about a month.

Washington, July 31.—Representatives that jail sentences would imperil the lives of Richard Hynes and A. H. Heddeley, convicted at Portland, Ore., in 1908, of conspiracy to defraud the United States of public lands, moved President Taft yesterday to commute their sentences by wiping out the terms of imprisonment on condition that they pay the fines imposed.

A STRANGE CASE

Death of Pawtucket, R. I., Woman Under Peculiar Circumstances.

Pawtucket, R. I., July 31.—Mrs. Henry P. Stafford, 63 years old, was found dead at her home here to-day under peculiar circumstances and the police are looking for a man who was seen at the Stafford house shortly before and after the woman came to her death.

Medical Examiner Charles H. French, after making a superficial examination, declined to state the cause of death and announced that an autopsy would be held this afternoon. The woman was found lying on a bed. No marks were found on the body.

Stafford, who is a carpenter, left his home this morning to go to South Attleboro, Mass. Outside his house he was met by a man who asked if he had any work to let. Stafford answered in the negative and drove off, leaving his wife alone in the house.

Three quarters of an hour later the woman's daughter-in-law, Mrs. John F. Stafford came to the house and called Mrs. Stafford. A strange man replied.

She ignored him but failed to receive any answer from her mother-in-law, after calling several times.

Finally the man said: "She's up stairs," and he led the way to a chamber on the upper floor. The man then started away and met Stafford returning home. There's a woman up stairs waiting for you," said the man. "She's not waiting for you; get out of here," Stafford answered.

Upon finding his wife dead, Stafford notified the police and a search was at once begun for the mysterious stranger. The man had been seen near the house about a week ago. Mrs. Stafford had been in apparent good health.

He was married about 20 years ago in Northfield to Miss Jennie Wilcott of that place. Mrs. Coyle and daughter were at North Hartsell, Me., when notified of Mr. Coyle's death.

Miss Minnie Scribner of Boston and W. B. Arnold Armstrong of Boston were married yesterday by Rev. J. Edward Wright at his home. Mr. Armstrong had been in Montpelier a week, demonstrating the Jeffries motor car. He left for Boston yesterday but will return later.
